What kind of love is this

What kind of love is this,
that made You leave Your throne behind?

What kind of love is this,
that made You lay your glory down?

Become a man, just one of us,
No comeliness, just one of us

What kind of love is this, was born a humble child
What kind of love is this, so common that there was no pride
No wealth no fame, no might of man,
Just shepherds came to find a Lamb

What kind of love is this, You choose Your life to die
What kind of love is this, You came to satisfy that law
You paid it all, left none behind
To free us all, that were so blind

What kind of love is this, that had You crucified
What kind of love is this, in agony You cried
Because of me, to set me free
Because of me, you died for me

What kind of love is this, You died so I could live
